Blank's Coffee

The only complaint we ever heard of Blank's Coffee was made by a boarding-house keeper. She said Blank's Coffees were so much better than her boarders drank too much. Even then when you consider that "Faust Blend," Blank's best coffee, costs less than 1 cent per cup, it costs little more to have the best than the poorest coffee. Blank's other brands of coffee are as good proportionately as Faust Blend. We keep them.

DICKENS LANDMARK IS TO GO.

London, November 2.—That the history of Dickens is not guarded jealously is clearly evidenced by the fact that in Tavistock square, where the novelist lived nine years, entertained the celebrities of the day, and wrote "Bleak House" and other works is now in course of demolition and that in a few days nothing of it will be left. The removal of this landmark, visited by so many thousands of Americans, is due to the Duke of Bedford's desire to erect on the site buildings which will produce more revenue.
